

Halcyon Hill

Nestled in the heart of Virginia's renowned Hunt Country, Halcyon Hill encompasses 17 acres of rolling pasture land right outside the charming village of Rectortown.

Convenient to both Routes 50 and 66, Halcyon Hill is just 45 minutes from Dulles International Airport and 1 hour west of Washington, DC.

A winding gravel drive bordered by specimen trees brings you to the house surrounded by mature landscaping and extensive plantings, all created by the late award-winning Landscape Architect Meade Palmer.

Newly renovated, private setting with magnificent mountain views. Four bedrooms, four full and one half bath, two fireplaces, heated pool and spa. Two bedroom guest house, large shed and 2-car garage.
